Overview

Main Airport Center, Frankfurt
Growing the Global Wing of CapitaLand

CapitaLand International (CLI) is CapitaLand’s wholly owned international business unit, set up to:

- Expand CapitaLand’s global investment portfolio and diversify it beyond the core markets of Singapore and China
- Grow new businesses with the objective to build new income streams
- Strengthen CapitaLand’s competitive advantages by adapting global trends and business models from the rest of the world for our Asian markets
- Build global talent pool in developed markets such as Europe and the U.S.
Overview – CapitaLand International

CapitaLand in the U.S.

- The U.S. economy continues to grow strongly, mainly driven by strong domestic consumption trends (68% of 2Q 2018 GDP) and high employment rates¹

- Since 2H 2015, CapitaLand has invested approximately US$600 million in the U.S.

- U.S. portfolio as at 30 June 2018 includes the following:
  - 5 hotels with over 1,260 units in Manhattan, New York and Silicon Valley
  - Majority stake in a corporate housing provider, Synergy Global Housing (owns 1,500 units with strong presence on the West coast, including Los Angeles, Orange County, San Diego, Seattle and New York)
  - A dedicated U.S. office has already been set up in New York City to identify business opportunities, drive acquisitions and strengthen the Group’s current asset management platform

Attractive Portfolio Characteristics

Well-supported By Economic Fundamentals

- Market-rated properties located in amenitised neighbourhoods
- Unfurnished apartments with typical lease term of one year provides opportunity for market rent adjustment at renewal
- B2C business model, targeting middle-income and skilled professionals in suburban employment hubs
- Attractive rents for Class B\(^1\) properties compared to those of high-cost urban core assets within the same regions
- Efficient operating model

Portfolio of 16 Low-Rise Garden-Style Multifamily Assets

Common Amenities and Services
- Expansive Swimming Pool
- Sports Facilities & Well-Equipped Fitness Center
- Spacious Clubhouse
- Spa and Sauna
- Playground
- Barbecue Area
- Dog Park
- Garages & Parking
- Laundry Facilities

Note:
1. A Class B multifamily property is typically older with room for enhancement and caters to middle-income tenants. In comparison, a Class A multifamily property is luxurious, relatively newer, and commands comparatively much higher rents. A Class C multifamily property is typically more than 30 years old, often requiring extensive improvement works.

Rationale For U.S. Multifamily

Stoneridge at Cornell, The United States of America
Rationale For U.S. Multifamily

1. Strategic fit with CapitaLand strategy to diversify portfolio
2. Attractiveness of U.S. Multifamily sector
3. Immediate income contribution
4. Solid growth potential
Expand Global Portfolio By Diversifying Assets Outside Of Singapore And China

- Diversify investment property portfolio into developed markets to allow further expansion in core emerging markets of China and Vietnam
- Meaningful allocation between developed and emerging markets for an optimal risk diversification

Note:
1. Total assets from developed markets is 56.9% as of 30 June 2018. After acquisition, total assets from developed markets will increase to 57.7%
2 Attractiveness Of U.S. Multifamily Sector

Deep And Scalable Sector, Attractive Risk-adjusted Returns

- Total capital value of multifamily properties in the U.S. amounts to >US$3.3 trillion
- Important component of the total housing stock in the U.S. with >19 million multifamily units in the country, contributing to 15% of total housing stock
- Net absorption from 2012 to mid-2017 totaled close to 190,000 units per year, representing a healthy 7.3% increase of the total multifamily demand over the five-year period
- Another 3.9 million units (325,000 units per year) estimated to be needed by 2030
- Highest average returns in the commercial real estate class, offering close to 10% annually in the last three decades
- Less impacted by cyclical downturn and exhibits relatively stable returns, allowing it to be one of the more highly liquid institutional real estate asset classes

Attractiveness Of U.S. Multifamily Sector

Demographics And Lifestyle Choices Will Continue To Create Renter Households

- Trend towards rentership due to increasing cost of home ownership
- Booming millennial generation’s preferences for geographic mobility and community living in the suburban markets
- Steady employment and wage growth\(^1\)
- Net-in migration trends to major metropolitan areas and lower-cost cities

State Unemployment Rates, July 2018, seasoned adjusted

Note:
1. From August 2017 to August 2018, average hourly earnings for all employees on private nonfarm payrolls increased by 77 cents, or 2.9 percent. Over that period, private nonfarm payroll employment increased by 2.3 million, or 1.9 percent. Source: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics
3 Immediate Income Contribution

Strong Demand Drivers Ensure Quality Earnings And Reliable Cash Flows

- Immediate contribution to the Group’s returns
- Strong occupancy of over 90% provide a quality income stream
- One-year lease term allows opportunity for rental upside
- Steady renewal rates of 50% to 60% provides reliable cash flow and operations stability
Solid Growth Potential

To Build A Strong And Extensive Platform That Can Scale Up Quickly

- Sizeable portfolio to grow and build a new business platform in the U.S.
- Further uplift from portfolio through asset enhancement
- Longer term plan is to bulk up scale
- Grow into an integrated multifamily player in the U.S.
- Option to spin off platform into investment vehicles and partnerships
Building A Resilient And Balanced Portfolio

• Acquisition is in line with CapitaLand’s strategy to diversify our portfolio outside of Singapore and China to developed markets and to grow new businesses

• Deep and scalable U.S. multifamily asset class with attractive risk-adjusted returns to contribute to the resilience of CapitaLand’s overall portfolio

• Growth supported by long-term secular trends

• Immediate income contribution with stable cash flow outlook

• Value-add opportunities which can allow CapitaLand to further enhance the value of these properties
